2nd Annual: Regency Lights Competition

Helping Build a Bright Community

Back by popular demand! The Regency holiday light competition is accepting participants to compete in several categories. Winners will receive bragging rights and a category winner sign in their front yard.

This year's categories include:

- Most elegant
- Clark Griswold
- Kids' choice

Community members can drive through the neighborhood with the map that will be sent out via email. Make sure your email is on file with Bruce from Elite! If you would like to enter your house into the competition please email CaryRegencySocialCommittee@gmail.com your address and a photo of your house decorated by December 10th. If you would like, please tie a gold or white ribbon on your mailbox for ease of spotting your house during the daylight hours.

What do you know about where your trash goes?

Regency Communities' trash is taken to the South Wake County Landfill in Apex. Our natural environment is directly impacted by how much of our waste goes into the landfill and how much we can reduce waste with our personal choices.

Reducing household waste to the landfill helps the environment in the following ways:

- Extending the life of the landfill - The South Wake County Landfill will fill up by around 2038 with no plan for where the next landfill will be. Our best bet is to try to extend the life of the one we have by reducing, recycling and composting our waste.
- Reducing carbon emissions - Trash is heavy and transporting trash creates a great amount of carbon emissions. The more trash we can divert into a backyard compost bin the better.
- Keeping Food Waste out of the landfill - ~41% of landfill waste is potentially compostable with food waste alone being almost 30%. Food waste in the landfill does not break down properly and generates the greenhouse gas methane.
- Recycling Right - Recycling is a complicated market driven municipal service. But with 35% of all waste going to the landfill being recyclable, there is great potential for improvements in recycling success by staying current on what should and should not go in the curbside recycling cart. Download the Cary Collects App or visit the Waste Wizard at <https://www.townofcary.org/collects> to search your item to see which bin it goes into.

Music for our Holiday Social Event December 11th 9-12pm at the Danbury Pool Lot!

Residents will enjoy holiday fun from 9 to 11 at the Danbury pool parking lot. This year, your neighborhood, award-winning Athens Drive Marching Band will be playing some holiday music for your enjoyment. In addition, their fundraising store, Dewey's at Waverly place will have a pop up store for you to buy Dewey's baked goods, cookies, cakes, Moravian stars, locally roasted coffee and locally made popcorn and ornaments. They will accept credit cards or cash.

Athens Drive Marching Band has two fundraising stores in our area, we're back in the Upper Level of Waverly Place in Cary and have a second location this year in the Village District in Raleigh! Open from November 13th through December 24th, Store Hours: Mon – Sat 10am- 6pm, Sunday 12-5pm. Thank you for supporting our young musicians!
